Status: Overall world assessment complete; detailing in progress

Anything written in [\[blue, in square brackets\]](#) is a note from me about the work I'm doing for you and where I'm heading with it.

Your Magic System

Status: Basic level in development.

See Anon Ghostwriting - Magic for further details.

[I have begun mapping out your magic system as much as I can, but to make it look unique to your world I need to know what unique plants it will draw on. Chances are the actual minerals would remain the same, but we can look at giving them their own unique names so that they appear unique. I'll return to your magic system development once I have a rough idea of what your plants are like.]

Your Ecosystems

[Please read the following for further information about the four sides of your ecosystem.]

Animal Ecosystem

Status: complete to basic level.

See Anon Ghostwriting - Animals for further details.

[Your animal ecosystem has an overall structure, a name for each taxonomic Order, and a brief description of each. Once I've finished work on the other three elements of your ecosystem I'll return to the animal ecosystem to add further details and begin to mesh them together.]

Plant Ecosystem

Status: Basic level in development.

See Anon Ghostwriting - Plants for further details.

[Your plant ecosystem has an overall structure, a name for some taxonomic Orders, and a brief description of those that have been named. Once I've finished work on your plants to a basic level I'll continue on to your fungus ecosystem.]
